Dear Miss Heninger,

You will note on the consignment list that the Kerechs are not for sale at the moment, due of course to his death and estate business etc. However, his son being a no-nonsense business man, we expect to be back in business very shortly.
I suggest you take reservations on the pieces. As far as the prices, it is hard to say. Those on the consignment list are for insurance purposes; we will let you know the minute we have definite information.

I will be in New York not until the beginning of February, but I will write you again before that with a specific date of arrival; that way maybe we can both arrange our time so that we could see each other. It was good of you to write, and Dory and I both miss you. See you soon, and much love,

We enclose herewith copy of letter received from Howard Connor in response to our letter to him requesting the payment of the sum of $12,000. We have sent the necessary papers to him and he is processing the payment.

However, you will note that the letter refers to incidental charges going back to last December relating to your apartment. We recommend that you meet with Mr. Connor in order to conclude the matter and so as not to hold up the $12,000.00 payment.

We would appreciate your advising us as soon as you have resolved your differences so that we can again press for payment of the $12,000. if same is not paid in the interim.

Incidentally, the attorney for Storrs' daughter has just communicated with us requesting that we make all payments in full before the end of the year. He is not familiar with the art world and no reasoning will help. The bookkeeper has called my attention to the fact that your payments to date total $ 1000 against purchases amounting to $5750. Would you be good enough to send us a check so that we may carry out the instructions. I shall be most grateful for your cooperation.

Over the past five or six years, I have acquired a number of paintings through your gallery: A Rattner, three Brodersons, a Hoffman ink drawing, and a number of sketches by Shahn.

I am interested now in a smaller Stuart Davis. I shall probably not get to New York for some time, but wondered if there were anything available at this time, and, if so, whether you had slides that might be forwarded to me along with a description of the works, their size etc.

Dear Don:

After writing you that long, long letter (for me) I found I had overlooked another letter which had to do with the delightful evening which ended with the Whitney Museum opening. I think your analysis of the collection was an excellent one and wish more young people would think like a big boy, as you do.

Also, your analysis of Mr. Greene is an excellent one. When I see you, I will tell you a most entertaining story. His perspicacity! Remind me, as it is an amusing story.

Now, I am sending you my belated thanks for the photograph of what you called "Mr. Benjamin Harrison", but from my old-fashioned point of view I think looks more like Heg. - and must be, since it was long before the Johns Hopkins Hospital got busy on the alteration program, which has just been introduced. She certainly looks very much like the little portrait I have and now that I realize you wanted me to return the photograph, this is enclosed, to be replaced in the Political History Department at the Smithsonian. Do you think it would be bad taste for me to offer my little painting to the Portrait Gallery at your institution? Or would it be better for me to write directly to Charles Nagel, who is in charge of that department? I will wait for word from you before I do anything about the situation.

Do let me know when you are coming to New York again, so we can have some fun. This will have to be after the 21st of December, as I am finally indulging myself in a short vacation. A boat trip for 8 days with short stops at San Juan and St. Thomas, but I will probably remain on board the entire period as the very thought of standing on line to buy so-called bargains that I can pick up at New York stores for less if I so desire is not my reason for taking such a trip, which I am taking for the sole purpose of a complete rest and relaxation.

And so, my best wishes for pre-holiday fun. Hoping to see you before Christmas,

As ever,

Dear Edith:

For purposes of accounting for the Estate of William Zorach I would appreciate it if you would verify our records as to the inventory on hand in the Gallery on November 16, 1966. I understand that the estate will be valued as of that date. Naturally if there have been any sales of items in this inventory it should be noted separately whether they have paid up or are still due.

Marguerite has asked me to advise you that it is expected that she will be appointed executor under the terms of the will - she expects to change prices on certain bronzes and original stones. We will advise you of these changes in a few days. I place an asterik before the items which should be held back for this purpose but if something comes up check with me and I will discuss it with Marguerite - I am sure there will be no problems.

For Purposes of simplifying the checking of this inventory I will make reference to the number shown on the inventory Bill Kennedy drew up.

Dear Mr. Freundlich:

I am so embarrassed for the delay in sending photographs you requested, but our photographer has been involved with a tremendous number of requests from museums and galleries and the delivery of the prints was held up accordingly. These are now enclosed with one exception, together with the pertinent data.

If you would like to have one or two of the paintings sent to you on approval, I will be glad to do so. There will be no responsibility other than the packing, transportation and insurance expenses involved.

SUBJECT: Notes re John Terken - Downtown Gallery

A requisition for Mr. Terken's services was forwarded to the Fiscal Division from NCFA on October 28, 1966; the purchase order was sent out to Mr. Terken from the Supply Division on November 11, 1966.

After receiving the letter from the Downtown Gallery yesterday, I called Mr. Tracy Miller but found he would not be in the office until this morning. Shortly after 10 a.m. today I called Mr. Miller again and after a short discussion with him about invoicing procedures, we made the following agreement:

1. Mr. Miller will call Mr. Terken to ask him to re-issue his invoice, billing the NCFA instead of Mrs. Halpert. He will not include the sales tax for New York City, and he will be sure to sign the invoice. Mr. Terken is to send the invoice to the NCFA, c/o Dr. D. W. Scott.

(As soon as I receive the invoice the memo of release will be prepared and it will be expedited through Fiscal for payment.)

2. In order to avoid any further delay of payment for the charges on the Moses Eaton panels, the Downtown Gallery will send us an invoice for crating which I will expedite for payment.
3. Mr. Miller will send me a list of the other "small" items which they have charged against us.

(My records show that all bills have been sent to Fiscal for payment - I will have to go through all the records to make certain payment has been requested and if it has been made. If not, why not, etc., and on any items where no bill has been received, have Mr. Miller send another invoice so it can be paid.)

Dear Mrs. Halpert :

Thank you for your letter of November 22.

Please send me the photographs of the two Kuniyoshi Oils and the one watercolour. If I like them, I shall either have to fly to New York, or ask someone in New York to take a look at them for me. I shall be glad to return the photographs to you. I am not interested at present in any drawings or prints.

As for Demuth, the same situation applies since you have some examples at hand at present. Please do send me some photographs. Basically, I am only interested in the very best works, if there is any question as to which photographs to send me.

Thank you for writing me.

November 15, 1966

To: Katherine Kuh

It may be of interest to you that in lending such outstanding examples by our artists to Bamberger's, I was prompted to do so by my admiration for the Bamberger family, which way back in 1909 - was responsible for the establishment of the Newark Museum, providing, as I was told, all the funds for the land and the building, under the directorship of John Cotton Dana. It was among the first museums to promote modern American art at a time when these artists were practically ignored.

This is the first time - and the only time - that I have cooperated with a department store or any other organization of its type, including discount houses, etc., which have entered the market when there are the largest number of professional art galleries extant throughout the country - to say nothing of the educational facilities offered by the largest number of museums in history.

I hope this explains my cooperation, based on sentimental memories.

Dear Miss Halpert:

I have sort of waited to hear from you in the matter of your expenses, but failing that, I can at least write to tell you what a great pleasure it was to have you here in Chapel Hill. You graced our meeting with your presence and I myself was deeply pleased because you seemed to think well of the Ackland. The only really sad part was the news of your physical problems which must really be hard to bear. I can only hope that as time goes by you will find yourself more and more restored to health.

You surely get many fan letters (along with a few brickbats!) and I would just like you to know that it has been a rare experience for me to have even a modest friendship with so interesting a person. Not being too fascinating myself, I tend to delight in it in others!

Mrs. Hertzman, our curator, and I have talked over your kind suggestion about a show of your marvelous weather vanes and so on, and would like to schedule it for the academic year 1967-68. We would, of course, stand all expenses involved. If you could let me have some idea of the best time for you, we can start getting up a few dates.

I will get Mr. Lewis to send you two checks, one for your honorarium and one for air fare plus taxis. He is very scarce and I have had a hard time catching up with him.

Mrs. Sloane joins me in sending you our warmest regards.

The Committee on Grants for Art of the National Institute of Arts and Letters takes pleasure in asking you to participate in a forthcoming exhibition of works by contemporary artists who are not members of the Institute, to be held in the Gallery of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, from March 3rd through April 2nd, 1967.

The Committee will chose several artists from among those exhibited to receive grants of $2,500 each, and the Richard and Hind Rosenthal Foundation Award of $2,000 to a younger American painter of distinction who has not yet been accorded due recognition.

We should like to have several examples of your work to cover approximately fifteen linear feet, including spacing. Hague's Delivery Service will collect all the material for the exhibition from the New York area on Wednesday, February 15th. If your material is out of the trucking area would you kindly send it by express collect, to reach us before that date?

Kindly indicate immediately your acceptance of this invitation by returning the enclosed postal card. Also return the slip attached herewith, noting the titles of your works, media, insurance values, and where they may be called for, as soon as possible. Photographs of the works to be exhibited should be in our hands by February 21st for publicity purposes.

Dear Mr. Carney:

Indeed, I remember you - and have a record of the works of art purchased through us (excluding the Hoffman ink drawing, which must have been acquired elsewhere).

When Stuart Davis died, the estate was held up for the customary length of time and it was not until fairly recently that we received word from the attorney that everything had been cleared. However, we can no longer control the pricing of Davis paintings and hope that Mrs. Davis will finally make a decision about the new bracket of figures which she demands. There are three relatively late paintings in the estate plus a limited number of others produced between the 1920's and 1950. As soon as she makes up a list of those which she desires to retain in her own home and others to be saved for her only son, she promised that she would go over all the remaining pictures with me and price them for sales purposes. When this occurs, I will write you promptly and let you know the new figures she establishes and for which we will be responsible.

If you should be in New York in the near future, I hope you will pay us a visit.

Dear Edith:

We had a highly successful opening of the Doi Memorial Exhibition last night. The show, a catalogue of which is enclosed, is impressive in presenting the various facets of his talent and development. The sudden flowering in the 50's is striking, Doi's lyricism reaching a high pitch in his last two decades.

I am happy to say that we are acquiring two more of his paintings, giving us a good representation of his development. Mrs. Doi has given us "Hillside Farms," 1961 (38 x 50) - abstract, rich in color, sensitively painted. The same can be said for "Early Spring" which we have from you and want to purchase. Please send us an invoice. I assume the usual 10% can be allowed?

I am pleased to report also that "Lingerine Mists" and "Kauai Canyons" were purchased at the opening, the latter going to the University of Hawaii. We will forward a check covering all purchases of Downtown Gallery holdings in due course, also providing you with names of buyers.

Yes, the picture at question of Charles' is the one listed as No. 5 and it is tempera and measures about 5.5 by 6.3 inches. Is this small a painting of his now worth $3,000.00?--or thereabouts?

Was his "Composition Around White (Barn & Silo)" done in 1952 the larger oil (or was it also tempera) done from this study?

Please do excuse me for bothering you again, but I would like clarification of these questions as soon as convenient.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Don:

You can imagine how busy I have been since I did not answer your November letter previously. Also, I did hope to see you during our 41st Anniversary Exhibition of which I was truly proud. With my genius (one of two specialties) for antagonizing the press or the so-called critics, the reviews were almost nil, but the attendance was great and the enthusiasm equally so. Also, I received some very touching letters from clients who reported their great experience of living with outstanding works of art and for this Gallery making the acquisitions possible through our time-payment plan and the special Christmas shows and the Collection's gift of a beautiful corsage from the Smithsonian staff (for which I thank you) plus all kinds of messages, etc., all my hard work seemed worthwhile under the circumstances. However, I am tired and had hoped that my new assistant would work out ideally - but it did not last very long. He refused to become acquainted with our routine, which I suggested originally; seeing the incoming mail, going over all our exhibition records, which include the catalogues, publicity releases and clippings, ranging from the present day, way back to 1926 and various other pertinent details, presenting an overall picture of how a "commercial" Gallery functions, and subsequently making a list of suggestions of newer methods and overall creative criticism. But he concentrated on one phase and messed me up considerably, resenting every word I said and being excessively masculine about working for a woman and how impossible it was. In any event, he just walked out and that's that. Incidentally, my choice of assistants is another symbol, or the second, so to speak, referred to previously with regard to my "genius".

I am so disappointed that I could not attend the opening of the Biennale and also be present at the seminar. On the other hand, I probably would have jumped up and attacked the Smithsonian for selecting someone as prejudiced as Geldzahler to present to the rest of the world what the U.S.A. with its extraordinary assemblage of ethnic, environmental and personal backgrounds and varied visual sense expressed. More of this later.

Now that I have decided to take a short vacation - from the 19th to the 21st of this month - perhaps I will live long enough - 18 more months - to see your new galleries. There is nothing I find as refreshing as life on a boat, away from all associations, telephones, and hourly commitments. I hope to see you when I return in my sailor suit, popping with energy and well-being. Meanwhile, my fond regards to you.

Dear Mrs. Helpert,

Several years ago, in Fine Magazine, we saw an article on your collection and a reproduction of Charles Sheld's painting - "Wind, Sea, and Salt." We tried to find out if there were reproductions available but had no luck until a few weeks ago, when a local dealer suggested that we write to you and gave us your address.

We hope that we can obtain a copy from you and are interested in knowing the size and price. We are enclosing a self-addressed envelope for your convenience.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Ford Miskell

Dear Mrs. Muhlert:

At last I can report that our photographer has delivered prints of the photographs of the Doves I ordered for you and these are now enclosed, with all the pertinent data on the reverse side of each print. The prices of both the drawings and the paintings are listed below.*

I hope that you will have occasion to be in New York in the near future. We have complete photographic record of Dove's work in all media, which you may study here at your convenience, together with considerable archives material dating back to 1911. I look forward to seeing you soon.

Sincerely yours,

P. S. No doubt you have heard that Robert Schlageter resigned shortly after I returned to New York and considers me an unusually evil person. I regret that we both had such an unhappy experience, about which I am sure you will hear in great detail in your area and hope that it will not affect you from this Gallery and me.

For some a one-time evidence will suffice and a few will need to do it again and the way of modifications or analysis of data I have found to be most useful is to keep the first test and at the second patients are asked not to record what or how they remember because even if they will not do this "redesign" will still occur as long as they think about what they can remember and the procedure is simple. As will be seen later this is a new technique which has been developed by Drs. Carl Hoffmann and Dr. John R. Stoye and the measurement accuracy which can be achieved over a short period of time is quite good. It will be seen from the figures here presented that when only 2 measures are made the accuracy is about 80%.

After the first series of letters and messages of a similar nature, I became more and more weary of writing him, & finally discontinued all my efforts to reach him. In July of 1863 he had written to me from New York, saying that he was about to go to Europe and would return in April of 1864. After this date nothing more was heard of him.

Dear Jim:

Although I dictated a letter to you about a week ago, my Ediphone was most uncooperative and did not record what I had to say. This explains the delay in acknowledging your letter.

Naturally I am delighted that the opening of the Dod Memorial Exhibition was "highly successful" and am pleased also with the catalog, which has an excellent foreword and introduction. I sure wish I had been there, but my travelling luck seems to be running out. However, I finally settled for an 8-day boat trip to the Caribbean starting on December 13th. My next vacation will be spent in my favorite area - Honolulu.

It is a great pleasure to enclose the invoice you requested and of course you are entitled to a 10% discount. This applies as well to the University of Hawaii and either it or the Academy will also have the benefit of the 10% for KAUAI CANYONS and if LINGERING MISTS or any other paintings are purchased by private collectors, you will have an additional credit of 10% on these as well.

And so, good cheer, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to the big and little Fosters.

As ever,

EOM/tm

P.S. I received a very charming letter from Betty Ecke and it occurred to me that I do not have a catalog of the exhibition held at the Academy a year or more ago. If there is one to spare, would you be good enough to mail it?

I got your invitation to the Morris Broderson

Dear Mr. Perutz:

I certainly regret that your experience with us has been "unsuccessful". This has been a very hectic period for us as we were obliged to close in April and did not reopen until after Labor Day with many of the details still unfinished. It was a most unfortunate situation - packing, moving and reconstructing our new quarters with a myriad of unforeseen complications developing en route. As a matter of fact, while we are all set in appearance, we still have difficulty in locating some of the records which the movers packed in wrong cartons, etc. Therefore, I have not located your previous correspondence.

While we represent the estates of Davis, Sheeler and Kuniyoshi, the two former artists' estates are blocked and the lawyers have advised us that until the papers clear through the Tax Bureau we are not permitted to offer any examples of the two artists' work. As soon as we get the green light, I will be glad to advise you accordingly.

In the case of Kuniyoshi, he left very few unsold paintings when he died and we now have only two oils in our possession and one water-color, all of which are for sale. If you wish I can send you photographs of these together with the pertinent data and others of his drawings, which Mrs. Kuniyoshi released recently for a retrospective exhibition held in Tokyo, where a large number of drawings and prints together with the one very large painting were sold. However, we have several excellent drawings and prints still in our possession. In the case of Demuth and Stella, we are fortunate enough to acquire an example now and then and have several on hand at the present time.

If you will let me know when you plan to be in New York I will be very glad to reassemble what there is by all the artists mentioned and of course will communicate with you about Davis and Sheeler when we are free to do so.

I look forward to a visit in the near future.

GENTLEMEN:

THE STATE MUSEUM IS PREPARING AN EXHIBITION TITLED LIGHT: CANVAS TO CURRENT SCHEDULED FOR MAY 12 - SEPTEMBER 10, 1967. THE THEME - LIGHT AS A UNIFYING AGENT, INDEPENDENT OF THE SCENE OR FORMS REPRESENTED - WILL BE DEVELOPED WITH WORKS DATING FROM TURNER TO THE PRESENT. THIS UNIQUE THEMATIC APPROACH REQUIRES NOT ONLY SELECTION OF ARTISTS WHO FIT GENERALLY INTO THE AESTHETIC PREMISE BUT ALSO SPECIFIC PAINTINGS FROM THE OEUVRE. THE RESEARCH AND ORGANIZATION OF THE EXHIBITION HAS BEEN THE COMBINED EFFORT OF LUCY LIPPARD, ADVISORY EDITOR OF ART INTERNATIONAL, DICK BELLAMY, FORMER DIRECTOR OF THE GREEN GALLERY, AND LEAH SLOSHBERG, CHAIRMAN OF THE MUSEUM'S ART DEPARTMENT. THE EXHIBITION WILL BE ACCCOMPANIED BY AN EXTENSIVE CATALOGUE WHICH HAS BEEN MADE POSSIBLE BY THE GENEROSITY OF ONE OF NEW JERSEY'S OUTSTANDING INDUSTRIES.

WE WOULD LIKE VERY MUCH TO INCLUDE IN THE EXHIBITION GEORGIA O'KEEFE'S PELVIS SERIES, RED WITH BLUE (1945, 29-3/4" X 40", OIL) FROM YOUR COLLECTION. THIS PAINTING, WHICH IS PARTICULARLY SUITABLE IN DEVELOPING THE THEME, WILL CONTRIBUTE VERY MUCH TO THE EXHIBITION.

Kramer

November 23, 1966

Dear Helen:

With Thanksgiving Day in the offing, I have been thinking of you and the many happy holidays I spent with the Kramer family and, as a matter of fact, turned down two invitations for this year.

No doubt you will understand why I have not been communicating with you of late. This has been a most trying period for me and continues so, as the Gallery is much too much for me at this stage of the game. The many details involved increase daily, with the largest number of calls for information which I have assembled through these long years. I had a deal involving a merger with another Gallery to relieve me of the exaggerated needs, but characteristic of our period, the other Gallery pulled a dirty trick which, of course, resulted in my cancellation of all negotiations. And, at this point, I really don't know what to do. I wish that I did not have the old-fashioned sense of responsibility to my artists and/or their widows, knowing as I do that when an artist is dropped by one Gallery, it takes a long time for him to make a comeback. Zerbe is one of the many examples.

Now that I have gotten rid of my consistent gripe, I am hoping to hear from you and to start a new, pleasant correspondence on my part. Do let me know how you are getting on with your work and please be good to yourself.

The Downtown Gallery does not have Jack Levine's "Banquet" in its collection. The only "Banquet" I have been able to track down is in the collection of Mr. Ray Hechberger (993 Fifth Avenue, New York). Of course there is the famous "Welcome Home" at the Brooklyn Museum (a general, his wife and various dignitaries at a banquet board) and it may be that this is the one you're after.

In any event, not only the owner but the artist himself must now give permission for reproduction. Mr. Levine can be reached through the Landau-Alan Gallery, 766 Madison Avenue, New York.

December 1, 1966

Dear Mr. Tseng:

The Committee on Grants for Art of the National Institute of Arts and Letters takes pleasure in asking you to participate in a forthcoming exhibition of works by contemporary artists who are not members of the Institute, to be held in the Gallery of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, from March 3rd through April 2nd, 1967.

The Committee will chose several artists from among those exhibited to receive grants of $2,500 each, and the Richard and Hinda Rosenthal Foundation Award of $2,000 to a younger American painter of distinction who has not yet been accorded due recognition.

We should like to have several examples of your work to cover approximately fifteen linear feet, including spacing. Hague's Delivery Service will collect all the material for the exhibition from the New York area on Wednesday, February 15th. If your material is out of the trucking area would you kindly send it by express collect, to reach us before that date?

Kindly indicate immediately your acceptance of this invitation by returning the enclosed postal card. Also return the slip attached herewith, noting the titles of your works, media, insurance values, and where they may be called for, as soon as possible. Photographs of the works to be exhibited should be in our hands by February 21st for publicity purposes.

Thanking you in advance for your cooperation, I am,

Dear Abram:

I have been spending Thanksgiving Day (alone at last) after considerable effort, planning our 41st Annual Christmas Exhibition, which will include several goodies we recently acquired for the occasion. With so many artists in our roster passing away, it is most difficult to continue my favorite type of exhibition, which has been responsible for an extraordinary number of collectors in America, whose incomes began to increase through the years, making it possible for them to continue within a higher price level. Thus, I am delighted to have the Marin and, if you are prepared to give up any of the other small paintings in your collection, please let me know, as I would be delighted to repurchase them for inclusion, together with some others which I acquired recently. If you would let me know which of the other paintings we listed about two weeks ago you are prepared to give up at this time, I would be pleased to make an offer considerably higher in price than your original purchase - prepared to work on a low profit basis so that I do not have to change our annual event.

Won't you let me hear from you at your convenience - but soon.

My fond regards to you both.

Otherwise, Mrs. Halpert feels that we should take care of the matter here and have you reimburse us subsequently.

Also, we are very anxious to have the Merry-Go-Round picked up, as our storage space is so limited. This will have to be carried by hand, of course, as we will not entrust it for packing and shipping again.

We will appreciate hearing from you about both matters and hope that some, any or all of you will be coming in soon. We haven't had a visitor from the Smithsonian since Mrs. Breckin breezed through (literally - it was the windiest day of the Fall) on her way to Europe.

As this period is entirely out of my territory, I thought

#1, a painting formerly in the collection of Mrs. Spencer

Justin Redfield of New Haven (1795-1850) and is attrib-the painting is August 3, 1835. The dimensions are 39"

Perhaps after I get this much-needed rest, I will find the energy and time to come out to see all your new wings, collections, etc. It has been a mighty long time since I had the pleasure of seeing you and I hope that, if I can't make it soon, you will have occasion to be in New York and will pay me a visit.

Dear Jim:

Is my face red?

In addition to my being clobbered on the head by a metal ladder which skidded, resulting in a concussion, an ex-employee misfiled all the exhibition papers and I have just come across the list we made during your visit on October 4th - exactly two months ago. I hope you will understand and forgive.

In referring to this lost document I find that we had promised to send you the following photographs:

Marin	DEER ISLE, MAINE, 1927
	SEASCAPE FANTASY, 1944
Weber	MUSIC, 1912
Hartley	YOUNG SEA DOG WITH FRIEND BILLY, 1942

[Signature]

These are now enclosed, all but the first item, which I inadvertently sold, not recalling the fact that I had promised to send you the photograph. The Weber is included in the very exciting exhibition now current at the Smithsonian Institution together with a great many other paintings from the Gallery as part of the ROOTS OF ABSTRACT ART IN AMERICA. However, this was automatically marked N.F.S., but will be available to you if you are still interested.

I notice that we had promised you a print show and am getting busy on the selection, but would very much like to know the approximate date you have in mind as well as the number of prints you desire. At the same time, you might check the names of the artists you would like to have included. I would also like to know whether it would be all right to have examples by Stuart Davis and Sheeler in the exhibition, although both estates are blocked and no sales may be made under the circumstances until we get the green light from the attorney.

X It was a great treat to see you and I hope that your future visits to New York will be more frequent. Meanwhile, my fond regards to you and the family.

As ever,

Edith Gregor Halpert
Director
The Downtown Gallery
465 Park Avenue
New York, New York 10022

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

An exhibition of PAINTINGS BY ARTHUR B. DAVIES is planned for the Tucson Art Center galleries for March 1967. We expect to include approximately fifty paintings with attention to the characteristics of Davies' style and his particular importance in American art. We believe that this will be the first Davies exhibit of this consequence in the West.

We will publish a catalogue which we hope will make a contribution towards defining Davies' position. The catalogue will include a bibliography and substantial essay written by Professor Sheldon Reich, of the art history faculty, Art Department, University of Arizona. Dr. Reich has just completed a catalogue raisonne of John Marin which will be published by Princeton University Press. An Archives of American Art grant contributed to Dr. Reich's efforts.

We are hoping to reserve for the exhibition a carefully balanced list of works. May we hope that from your collection you will be willing to lend us one or two Davies paintings for this exhibition? If your answer is in the affirmative we would like a glossy 8" X 10" photograph suitable for publicity and catalogue reproduction of the work or works to be loaned. We would expect to be billed for the photographs.

The works borrowed will be shipped at our expense for delivery to us on or before February 15, 1967. Our insurance procedures include wall to wall coverage. If you prefer to insure yourself, you may bill the Tucson Art Center for the premium.

We are eager to present as distinguished an exhibition as the painter deserves and as our resources will allow.

Cordially,

Enclosed you will find a check for $400. to be applied to my account.

As I advised you, my business agent questioned a number of the items and withheld payment all this time - which I regret.

I will come to see you about the difference, which includes annual charges for 3 air conditioners, only one of which is in working order. Furthermore, spending as little time as I do in the apartment, the agent felt that it was a highly exaggerated figure. Also, the charge for the antenna is superfluous as not only is there no connection to the main unit, but to date I have never used the T.V. set. Please let me know when it will be convenient for you to discuss these and other details. It will have to be postponed until after my return from a vacation trip on December 22nd.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Sanguinetti:

Much as we would like to cooperate with you, neither the Gallery nor I owns any paintings by Arthur B. Davies. I do have some lithographs of his, but they are in Connecticut, where I have a home and have stored a good many prints in a local warehouse. I am sure that you can get all that you desire from museums and dealers throughout the country.

All the artists on our roster are listed at the bottom of this letterhead and, if we can cooperate with you in connection with any member of this group, we will be happy to do so when the occasion arises.

Dear Lois:

Although I am quite certain that I sent you a copy of Margaret Watherston's appraisal for restoration which we received on November 4th. I am now quoting from her report of that date and listing the figures she gave for the work to be done.

"DAVIS - "Cafe Place des Vosges", oil on canvas, 29" x 36", dated 1929

"Treat areas around recent flaking with adhesive to secure paint layer; fill losses with gesso; place on vacuum table under pressure and heat to improve penetration of lining adhesive and secure paint film; inpaint losses with color ground in synthetic resin medium.

"Because of moisture used in removing excess gesso and petroleum solvents used to remove wax-resin adhesive, varnish and surface grime will be removed from around damaged areas, leaving them clean. It will therefore be necessary to clean entire surface.

Cost of restoration - $275.00*

If you require any additional legal papers, let me know, as we would like to have this painting repaired without any further delay.

I am planning a short vacation trip starting the 13th and ending the 21st of this month and hope that I will see you either before or after. In any event, I hope that you will have a very happy Christmas. Best regards.

Sincerely yours,

November 17, 1966

Dear Edith:

As usual, I am unforgivably late in answering your nice letter, but I have been travelling like mad, conducting all over the map. Since we last saw you, quite a few things have happened. Last month I was appointed as the permanent conductor of the Houston Symphony, starting with the 67-68 season. This means that I will be spending 14 weeks a year in Houston, a fact made tolerable by the brilliance of the orchestra. As you know, this has been a great ambition of mine, to work with my own orchestra, and I am very happy about it. I will also be conducting in other places, of course, including quite a few times in New York during next season, so I will hopefully see more of you than recent times have allowed.

During the summer I will be working and rehearsing a Musical for Broadway, which I am writing with Alan Lerner. Wish me luck. It is a regrettable truth that conducting Mahler is not nearly as lucrative as conducting for Doris Day, and I am hoping that this Musical will, apart from artistic ambitions, be lucrative for us. I must say that working in a field I love is more ~~than~~ satisfying than all the movie loot possible, but my one regret is that our painting collection is going to be slowed down quite a bit. Especially at today's

I am enclosing two self-explanatory letters which set forth a formal request for the renewal of the Kuniyoshi and Davis scholarships to Skowhegan.

Of all the people I know who believe in the School you are the last I need to convince as to the importance of supporting Skowhegan. Hence, I'll save you from reading a long dissertation.

Instead, I'll say that we shall never be able to adequately thank you for your interest, advice and support in the past and that we hope we shall always continue to merit it.

Much love,

I have been so depressed - I don't illness that kept you away. We wanted nursing home bills were so enormous, anything would help.

I hope you will think of us

In relation to the Ben Shahn exhibition which you had requested and to which we had agreed, the following terms will be applied. This is the customary procedure in connection with all loan exhibitions sent by us.

- 1.) The consignee, Itoh Gallery, assumes full responsibility from the time the works of art leave The Downtown Gallery until all of the unsold works of art are returned to The Downtown Gallery. This covers insurance, packing and transportation charges.
- 2.) The pictures available for sale (the majority) will be priced at reduced net figures so as to allow an ample profit at your judgment.
- 3.) Itoh Gallery guarantees to sell or buy a minimum of 20% of the total consigned price, with payment legally guaranteed.

Mr. William D. Paul Jr.
Department of Art
The University of Georgia
Athens, Georgia 30601

Dear Mr. Paul:

Please forgive me for being so late in my reply, but this has been a particularly active period in my life, with lectures and various other trips as well as an avalanche of activity at the Gallery proper.

However, since your exhibition is planned for April 1967, I am sure that we will have sufficient time to offer a selection for your consideration, including most of the artists you have named. The only problem I can see is the fact that the plans include a period of "approximately one year". In view of the fact that there are so few paintings available by O'Keeffe and Kuniyoshi together with many requests which we receive, we may be obliged to refer you to private collectors who have excellent examples of their work and can afford to be more generous than we are. However, there will be no problem with the other artists you mention as well as some additions you may desire when you see the examples of other major artists we have on our roster.

Won't you please let me know when you plan to be in New York. I have several commitments throughout the rest of the month, but with the exception of my annual winter vacation, which has been cut down to just over a week - from the 13th to the 21st - I will be delighted to see you, but again, it is important to phone me in advance so that I can devote the necessary time for this welcome occasion.

Meanwhile, I am making a tentative selection to show you on the day which is convenient for both of us and look forward to hearing from you shortly.

Sincerely yours,

What goes? I have telephoned and telephoned and telephoned repeatedly, day after day, leaving messages, but to date have been unsuccessful in making direct contact with you.
Consequently, I will now try the U. S. Postal System.

In going through our consignment invoices, I find that two gouaches by Ben Shahn (relating to the H.M series) were sent to the Museum at your request on April 12th.

Were these sent somewhere for exhibition or what? At the moment, we are in the process of checking all our stock records and would very much like to obtain the information from you at your earliest convenience.

Incidentally, I just recalled also that you had planned to communicate with me about the drawings the Museum was planning to sell. Among these were several by Sheeler and O'Keeffe in which I was interested. Are they still available? If so, may I come in (by appointment) and look at them again so that I can present my final offer. Many thanks for your cooperation.

Dear Bill:

I realize I am a bit late answering your letter, but this has been a mad period in the Gallery. Despite all the accent on Op and Pop and Erotica as well as all other sensational art the press favors to the exclusion of practically everything else, we are having an incredible rush on our artists and are now at the point where we have to turn down museums and collectors as our stock is getting mighty low. I indulge myself by concentrating on people I like. Of course, I was delighted with the choice you made, as we are deluged with requests for Webers and am happy that you have a choice example, one I had tucked away in our N.F.S. bin.

I am keeping my fingers crossed in the hope that my new assistant will relieve me of many duties so that I can get away from this joint occasionally and get to see my friends in Omaha and other parts of the country. If and when I can make it, I will let you know in advance so that you can have a "nightcap" waiting for me. Meanwhile, my fond regards.

I have noticed that it is again almost time to return the three works which are presently hanging in the White House. As the Marin, the Rattner, and the Shahn have been particular favorites of the White House Staff, we would like, if possible, to keep these works for yet another six months, until June 1, 1967. If this is not convenient, we will of course be happy to return the works whenever you wish. Otherwise, I would appreciate your signing and returning the enclosed loan extention forms for our records.

I hope that all is going well with your 41st anniversary exhibition. I plan to see it when I am in New York next week.

As a student at the Institute of Fine Arts, I am working under the guidance of Professor Robert Goldwater on a master's thesis on Reuben Nakian. It would be extremely helpful to me if I might make an appointment to go through your files on Nakian in the years 1927 to 1935 when you represented him.

Although I have already been through the files at the New York Public Library, the Museum of Modern Art and the Whitney Museum, I am sure the material you have would fill in gaps in factual and visual knowledge which I will otherwise be unable to obtain. Therefore, I shall be most grateful if you would allow me to come to the Gallery one day to study your files.

Dear Mrs. Halpert,

Per our blintz and omelette luncheon, I discussed the matter with the Central Powers of this gallery and since all are in agreement and pleased with what appears to be a happy resolution to a thorny problem,

- 1) we'll be able to suspend the printing of the brochure in order to acknowledge

- 2) we can offer you 20 prints of each edition as you desire @ 1/2 price, i.e.,

In looking over the correspondence we have had

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

I write to you as the 1967 Chairman of the Beth Tzedec Congregation Art Show. I am extremely interested in featuring the work of Ben Shahn in this show and as a matter of fact, building the show around the work of Ben Shahn. He is my favourite artist and as you know I am the proud owner of one water colour and one graphic. I would like to come to New York to discuss this matter with you and possibly also with Mr. Shahn. I feel that from this show, could possibly come some commissions for an artist of Mr. Shahn's stature.

I myself being young and foolish would dearly love to have Mr Shahn as the featured artist and possibly have him here in Toronto for the opening of the Show on May 7, 1967.

Please, let me hear from you soon regarding this matter as I am most anxious to know which direction to take.

Thanking you, I remain,

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Evans:

I was glad to hear from you and am looking forward to seeing the Kuniyoshi drawing.

Frankly, I am embarrassed to say that the art market - at least in this Gallery - is popping and does not seem to be affected by Wall Street. There are so many new museums, particularly in the Deep South, all of which are ignoring the publicized Pop and Op artists and are starting with the early 20th century masters, creating considerable activity here so that we have no cause for complaint and can afford to turn down the new breed of so-called "collectors" for investment.

I hope that I will have the pleasure of seeing you in the very near future. My best regards.

Dear Mrs. Halpert,

There has been considerable interest expressed by a collector here in Zorach's DIVA - TORSO. However, this interest is accompanied by an insistant request that I inquire if an adjustment in price would be considered. I felt that I should not give a negative reply until I consulted you about it since I don't know your policy and whether you ever do consider a change in price. As you know, of course, the sculpture is $10,000.00. I'd appreciate your opinion as soon as possible so that I may give a reply.

I'd like to mention also that Joe had written to the directors hoping to be able to purchase the Zorach for our permanent collection but we have had no indication from them yet about the possibility of acquiring it.

Dear Dr. Breidenbach:

Thank you for your letter.

Enclosed please find a catalog of the exhibition of Sheeler paintings, drawings and other objects we had on view during the exhibition held here in May, 1966.

With very few exceptions, the exhibition comprised examples of his work which were being shown for the first time. The majority represented work that belonged to his widow or were retained by Sheeler and hung in their home. Some of the examples shown were for sale. Others were still retained by the estate, but we now have a free hand with the balance and when you are next in New York, I will be pleased to show you what we have available. Please let me know when you plan to be in this part of the country so that we may have the material ready for you. Unfortunately we have no illustrated catalogs of any artist's work and therefore it requires a personal visit to actually see what there is.

I look forward to hearing from you in the near future.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Robert:

In referring to our records, I find that THE LITTLE SAILBOAT by John Marin, dated 1924, was purchased from us in June of 1948 for the sum of $1500. I would suggest that you ignore the figure at this time and place an insurance valuation of $8000. to $10,000. Incidentally, you may send me a check for the difference. Coy, ain't it? No wonder a group of dealers in New York are attacking me for ruining the art market by selling at what they consider mad prices even today.

I am delighted that you (and I hope Carol) will pay me a visit shortly. It will be so good to see you.

As you recall, we had made

My wife also explained that since we could start monthly payments in January and pay it in one year. I became ill in New York, and we left early.

Dear Mr. Perutz:

The current exhibition has really kept us hopping and with all the other activities in relation to outgoing exhibitions and sales, I have neglected my correspondence shamefully.
Please forgive the delay in answering your letter.

The Dove, of course, was shipped to you and I am sure you will be delighted as I was when the painting arrived from the restorer, who is a true genius in cleaning a painting on the surface and recapturing the original brilliance of the color. While I hated to see this great example of his work leave the Gallery, I feel that it has found a loving home and will be greatly enjoyed.

Much as I would like to cooperate with you, it is impossible for us to extend payments over so long a period. The attorneys for the estates are adamant these days and limit us to a period of one year, with monthly payments coming through.
Perhaps the Dealers Association will work out some method for all of us to carry accounts for lengthy periods. We have been approached by several banks in recent years who would be willing to finance art purchases - charging interest, of course - but I have turned them all down as it would be embarrassing for us to present the idea to our clients. As I mentioned, perhaps the Association can conceive some plan which will be acceptable to both the dealers and the clients. I will let you know if and when this is accomplished.

It was so nice to meet you and I hope you will drop in to see us on your trips to New York. My very best regards.

Dear Mr. Miller,

I received your letter
today in answer to my telegram and rec'd the pictures yesterday.
They were sent Railway Express instead of Every Air Knight, however they arrived in good order & enclosed are your receipts. The Weber photo was taped to the back of the picture b/c there was nothing on the Kunyoshi. I would appreciate you sending me the photo.

I hope to be able to visit your wonderful Jolley again in the near future. Sincerely yours

Dear Mrs. Haswell:

Your paintings will be shipped the latter part of the week and I would like to call your attention to the fact that the two items listed in the enclosed invoice should be added to your Fine Arts floater, as our insurance coverage ends at the portal.

In other words - the paintings should be covered on your insurance policy before the shipment is made. Although this is a customary procedure, your attention may not have been called to this fact previously.

It was a great pleasure to see you again and perhaps we'll run into each other in Arizona.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. G. A. Perry

Southampton, L.I., New York

Dear Mr. Perry:

On September 7th, we reported the serious damage to the Rattner painting entitled WE THE PEOPLE, 1966. You received a copy of Margaret Wetherston's appraisal. Your insurance representative saw the painting in its damaged state and, I believe, communicated with the conservator.

Naturally, we were deeply distressed to see an outstanding and recent painting in such condition and are more disturbed now that so much time has elapsed.
We had promised this for an exhibition and had to make a substitution and very shortly another outgoing show is scheduled.

May I suggest that you follow through on this to expedite the restoration and return of the picture to us. May I hear from you?

Sincerely yours,

EOH/tm

P.S. - The cost of the restoration, including transportation, is $1695. ~~according to~~ estimated by Margaret Wetherston.

Dear Mr. Terken:

I finally had a telephone call from the Smithsonian this morning with regard to your invoice for the repair of the Merry-Go-Round.

The Smithsonian says that they have sent you their purchase order number and if you will send a bill directly to them with this purchase order number (it should begin #SIF - ?) and your signature, they will process the bill right away. Also, please note that the Smithsonian does not pay sales tax as they are a government institution.

Sorry this is so complicated, but this is how government agencies function.

Dear Mrs. Halpert,

Your lively, entertaining talk given last June for certain members of the Northern Virginia Fine Arts Association is still remembered.

It was such a pleasure for me to meet you again that evening, having heard you "give them hell" at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts in Fall, 1962.

I am about to present a term paper within the next ten days on John Marin, Arthur G. Dove & Marsden Hartley. In my graduate course at Geo. Washington University, my paper on these artists would not - could not - be complete without your personal comments on Marin & Dove, & Hartley - either as painters, or as individuals.

Dear Stranger:

Don't you ever get to New York? Every once in awhile I hear that you'll be here "next week", but many months have passed and I miss you.

Don't worry about the misunderstanding about the Shaefer exhibition. We will be happy to work with you whenever you are prepared to plan the show and certainly will not keep your letter in the follow-up folder. At the rate our artists are widowing me, we could not possibly keep up with MEMORIAL EXHIBITIONS - and at this stage of the game, I am not considering the idea of filling in the gaps despite the fact that in several instances we have very little left in our possession.

Apropos, one of the loveliest memories I can hold onto is the long speech William Zorach made during his last visit to the Gallery some months ago. I will tell you about it when I see you.

At last I actually made plans for a short vacation trip and am leaving on a "cruise" on the 13th and plan to be back in town suntanned, relaxed and full of vim and vigor on the 21st. How about coming down during the holiday season so that we can get drunk together? If I don't see you before Christmas, I send you my best wishes for a very happy holiday.

As ever,

No doubt Miss Hartnett has informed you of her visit

By the 29th of this month - when you plan to be here a more complete presentation than I could show that day. As we have insufficient space in the Gallery

In the hope of obtaining permission to reproduce it in our book, we have prepared two copies of the attached letter. Also we would like to obtain an 8" x 10" glossy print.

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

It was a pleasure for me to meet you last Friday.
I greatly appreciated the opportunity to talk with you, however briefly. The Merry-Go-Round and I had a pleasant trip to Washington, and everyone at NCFA is charmed by it.

I am enclosing a check in payment for the photograph you sent. I am a bit concerned about the reproduction of For Distinguished Air, as it is cut off at the bottom.
As the placement on the page is of prime importance in this work, I would like to request another photograph, if you have one which reproduces the entire water-color.
The check includes the cost of remailing. Distinguished Air looked so striking at the Whitney! It is undoubtedly one of his finest works, and I can now understand why Mr. Wyndham was so disturbed when, (for the reason you suggested), Mr. Hitchcock did not hang it in the 1950 Museum of Modern Art retrospective!

I was sorry that we did not have time to finish our conversation on Demuth, and hope that we may continue over Christmas.

Sincerely yours,

Gentlemen:

You have your opinions. They are valid, respected, and sought.

Pretend a new and smiling face has just walked through your door. You hear a timid, hesitant, but friendly voice, "I'd like to buy a picture, please." What do you do? What do you advise? What do you say?

Well, that's the way it is with thousands of us new collectors who are just starting, who are still novices. We know so little, yet want so much to learn. Lacking your knowledge and your experience in the field you know so well, we seek your help, your pictures. We value your judgment. Possessing a desire (plus untapped resources) we are sincere when we say, "I'd like to buy a picture, please."

We are not the kind you'll find bidding thousands at Parke-Bernet. We'll never make a fortune in the art game -- though we have our dreams. When we leaf through those glossy pages glorifying the world's great art, we but admire knowing full well we shall never possess.

We are not interested in the mysteries, intrigues, and chicaneries of the fast-buck merchants. All we seek is a simple guide that will start us off on the right foot in building our collection. And this is where you come in.

You are among the most highly respected art dealers in our country today. Perhaps you will be generous enough to join those who are answering this questionnaire. Your answers are to be incorporated into the guidebook, "I'd Like to Buy a Picture, Please." Your words and ideas will be quoted and you yourself will be given full credit. Through your words, readers will learn that you as a most cooperative, helpful, dealer can become an invaluable counselor to the novice and established collector both. Because your gallery listing and your speciality will appear in our new contemplated volume, collectors will come to you with a trust and respect that you have created.

Though I cannot pay you in money for your kindness and knowledgeable aid, I believe your appreciated efforts will be rewarded. Someday I hope you will have an art collector's primer for your hungry art public, a primer that through your quotations and your philosophy will set forth your ideas for all to read.

Someday I hope you will be able to give your guide book to your collector who says, "I'd like to buy a picture, please." At least he will know what you think.

Thank you. Thank you.

Sincerely,

You will find all the pertinent data on the reverse side of the prints and the prices are listed below for your consideration.

Since we have never been obliged to pay the charges I cannot specify the actual shipping costs, but we will make an exception by paying for the packing, crating, etc. and will send whichever picture or pictures you may request for consideration via Air Freight. From what I gather in talking to several collectors, the charges are not very high if limited entirely to transportation.

As soon as I hear from you, I will be very glad to send one or two of the paintings you may select.

I too miss the Eckes very much and regret that we are not getting new examples of her work for the time being. However, the interest in her paintings has not diminished. On the contrary, there are many additional calls for inclusion in important exhibitions, etc. and I also look forward to their return.

I hope to hear from you shortly.

Sincerely yours,

I don't know how to express to you my feelings about the Sheeler. Since I have got it home, it really does very little for me and I wonder why I chose it. I know how scarce his works are and, therefore, I perhaps do not feel guilty in returning it to you. I have lived with it now on my wall for about ten days.

As you know, I spoke to your assistant in the Gallery and told him that I was rather doubtful about it, and he asked me to keep it for a few days.

Would you let me know if it is all right with you to return it.

As you were advised, there were two punctures in

We have received an estimate from our restorer, who at first suggested complete relining of the canvas, which is rather costly and will also cover up the artist's hand-written notes, including the title, etc. We are therefore arranging for a more superficial treatment. The cost of this will be $75. plus transportation both ways, amounting to a total of $95. We are telling the restorer to go ahead with this inexpensive method and are billing you accordingly.

Dear Mr. McLeod:

At last our photographer delivered the prints I had ordered. These are now enclosed for your consideration.

You will note that I did not include Charles Demuth - for the simple reason that we have no paintings on hand associated with landscape. As a matter of fact, pictures of this theme are most limited in his overall production, but if I locate an example which will fit in with your description, I will certainly get in touch with you. Meanwhile, you might enjoy looking at the William Zorach photographs. This outstanding artist balanced his figurative work in sculpture with superb paintings of the landscape starting way back in the early years with the Yosemite group and ending with Maine scenes with which he was associated for the better half of his artist's life. As a matter of fact, he died in Maine.

I just discovered the first part of this letter, including the second paragraph, and am most embarrassed that this most unusual situation occurred here. I had a temporary stenographer who did not complete the letter and just tucked it away in a folder which came to my attention this morning. Now, I will continue with your kind indulgence.

Under separate cover, I am sending you a few photographs for consideration. All the pertinent data appears on the reverse side of each print and the prices are listed on a separate sheet. If you would like to see the originals, we will be glad to send them to you on approval, with no responsibility on your part other than the charges involved in packing, shipping and insurance, including the return trip for any which you may not want to retain for your collection. This has been such a hectic period in the Gallery with so many museums requesting paintings for exhibition or purchase that I must apologize for being somewhat confused in relation to our correspondence. Actually, I cannot recall whether or not I advised you that we allow a 10% discount to museums and we will be happy to let you have the Max Weber painting for $13,500. although the Weber estate advised us that we must increase the figures on his work, particularly at this time when so many institutions are interested in acquiring examples of his work, with our stock diminishing rapidly. I will be grateful for an early reply and, again, apologize for my rather hazy functioning.

Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

Dear Mrs. de Colier:

Thank you for your letter.

I am very happy to learn of the five paintings in your possession and am most eager to see them. As a matter of fact, we are making a survey, writing to various institutions, despite the fact that we have maintained a very complete record since Stuart's association with the Gallery in 1927.

There will be a memorial show organized in 1965 and we are eager of course to show a complete cross-section of the artist's work in relation to period, subject, medium, etc. The exhibition will of course be held in an important museum and will probably travel to three or four other parts of the country.

Would it be possible to ship the pictures to us in the event that they cannot be brought here by someone who happens to be motoring to New York. Incidentally, there's an excellent service out of Boston and we would be glad to pay the charges via Boston Truck Company, 194 First Street, Cambridge 42, Massachusetts. We can have them photographed here so that the committee which will make the selection for the exhibition will have an opportunity to see whatever "unknown" paintings may be available as additions.

Won't you please let me know whether this is feasible. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mrs. Halpert,

Our friend Tseng Yu-ho Ecke suggested that we write to you about our wish to buy one of her paintings. She sent us several slides of paintings which she believes you still have on hand, and of these we have chosen her painting titled "Wall Walk" (1964, Honolulu, 16"x18", Dsui-painting). Would you please let us know if this painting is still available, and how much it would cost. Please tell us, also, how you prefer to ship these paintings to Hawaii and approximately how much air freight or your preferred method would cost. We are hoping to have the painting by Christmas.

If "Wall Walk" is no longer available, we would appreciate it very much if you would send us slides of other paintings which you now have, together with the prices. We especially like "In Umbria" (1962) and would be interested to know if it is available.

Both of the Eckes are very much missed in Honolulu. They have contributed so much to our cultural life, and have been such good friends. It will seem like a long year before their return.

Thank you very much for your help in getting a painting by Tseng Yu-ho to us.

Sincerely

Dear Ruth Julian:

It was so kind of you to send so charming a letter to this weary, hard-working woman. It was too bad that the amplifier did not function well, but I did enjoy my stay so much and was delighted to have an opportunity to talk with you while in Chapel Hill. I am also pleased that Madigan accepted your invitation and I am sure you will find him an ideal person.

I had hoped to see the Stones sometime last night, when I was scheduled to be present at the dinner given at the Rose Art Museum (Brandeis University) last night in honor of the late Max Weber and his family. Following the course of services in the transportation field I sat together with a "full house" of would-be travellers in the plane for almost two hours and finally was forced to leave as another announcement came through stating that we would be delayed for another hour or so, just about in time to retire for the night. Consequently, I decided to return to my home as I realized that I would have missed the dinner party and would be too distressed to socialize with anyone. However, if I run into Sybil and Steve I will certainly report my pleasant experience in North Carolina and especially my short visit with you.

I am delighted that the Barnett the Forsyths acquired from me will be well housed. In closing, I look forward to the pleasure of seeing you again in New York.

Thank you for your letter of October 8 and for the fun time we managed while in New York.

Mrs. Bowles is so enthusiastic about this Program that there is no holding her down. I did say that you had been most generous in lending to the Art in the Embassies Program, but did not suggest that you lend further. They have had in Delhi a collection and the loan time has been extended until January 1967. She has requested us to organize the next collection. We shall be more than delighted to include the works Mrs. Bowles selected from your Gallery; you gave us artist, title and medium of each work and if you could give us dimensions and evaluation of each plus biodata on the artists, we shall make arrangements for shipment and your Gallery will be so advised. You have been wonderfully cooperative and your generosity is greatly appreciated.

Carol joins me with warm regards.

I also have two of Holger Cahill's books on Max Weber, one of which contains the original lithograph number 25 of "Still Life" 1930 copyrighted 1930 by The Downtown Gallery with Topography by S. A. Jacobs and hand colored by the artist, signed by him and by Mr. Cahill. Both books are autographed by Mr. Weber.

In October I showed these things to Mr. Peter Morse of the Division of Graphic Arts of the Smithsonian Institution and he was quite impressed.

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

All of us at Art in America - Lee Ault, Jean, I - would like to see Downtown Gallery back in the advertising pages of Art in America during 1967.

Art in America now has the largest circulation of any art periodical and it is certified by ABC. Over the years so much of the editorial thinking has coincided with yours.

Certainly the Downtown Gallery is well known. However, keeping the people who count informed is a necessity for successful sales. Also, Mrs. Halpert, there are so many young and newly interested people. Your advertising in the six issues of Art in America starts these important contacts for you.

On top of these real values, we would be proud to have you among our leading advertisers.

The next available issue March/April closes for advertising January 6th but we would appreciate copy as early as possible due to holiday confusion. We hope you will make your plans today to start in Art in America.

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

The Stuart Davis Exhibition has completed its highly successful tour of European cities and has now been returned to the lenders. We wish to thank you for your assistance and cooperation that made the show possible.

The exhibition opened in Paris at the Museum of Modern Art and ran from February 15 to March 15. It next was shown at the Amerika Haus in Berlin from April 22 to May 21. From June 7 to June 24, when it was on display at the American Embassy Gallery in London, it was part of the large and broadly-conceived Festival of American Arts and Humanities. We are enclosing a copy of USIS London's report on this festival. Press comments on the Stuart Davis exhibition are on pages 5 and 6 of this report. We are also enclosing a copy of the London catalog as well as reports from Paris and Berlin, and photographs from both London and Paris.

As the press comments indicate, the exhibition made a significant impact on European art circles. We are indeed grateful to you for the loan of works which helped to bring this about.

Please accept our sincere appreciation.

Yours truly,

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

I am writing at this time to formally request that you be kind enough to renew the Downtown Gallery Scholarship in memory of Stuart Davis.

The scholarship last year was awarded to Scott Wilson a student at the Pennsylvania Academy.

The faculty felt that his work improved greatly at the school, has talent and benefited considerably from his summer at Skowhegan.

On behalf of Mr. Wilson, the other Trustees, the Governors and members of the Advisory Committee of the Skowhegan School I send thanks for your having made it possible for another young American artist to benefit so greatly from the Skowhegan program.

Most sincerely,

John Eastman, Jr.

Dear Mr. Friedman:

Thank you for your letter.

The check for $12,000. was received from Connor fairly promptly and I am sending him a check to be applied toward the balance due him. There are several questionable items which I have to clear up with him and am explaining accordingly.

The service for which they charge here is so ghastly, especially in the apartment, that the payment has been held up for very good reasons. As far as the Gallery is concerned, we are having a terrible time, with the air conditioner shut off for 4 or 5 consecutive days, but this man is impossible to deal with and I may be forced to take some action subsequently. Meanwhile, I am looking for another apartment, where I can have some human comforts.

Best wishes for a Happy Holiday.

We have received the list of works which you are so graciously lending to our forthcoming Cubism exhibition. It is an impressive list; and we are delighted to have them for the show, especially since several of them fill serious gaps in the coverage. We notice that you did not send the blue receipt form but assume that you will send it when the pictures are on their way to us.

We are enclosing Loan Agreement forms for these five works. We would appreciate it if you would fill in the information checked in red for our records and the catalog, and sign and return to us one copy of each. You will notice that we have not indicated any shipping instructions. We would like to have W. S. Budworth & Son, Inc., take care of packing and shipping unless you wish to indicate someone else.

Dear Mrs. Halpert,

Perhaps by now you have received a refund on the telegram you sent me a while back. A representative from Western Union came to see me and promised the refund after I complained about their poor service.

Thank you very much for the photos of weathervanes I received earlier in the week. I am very much in your debt for the help you have given me and a lot of the fun part of my work has been talking to you and examining your vane. I hope that a photo of the locomotive vane is in the works; it is such a gem it would be a shame to leave it out. Also I guess I will be getting a bill from your photographer one of these days.

By the way a friend of my wife's mother had an experience in the Soviet Union only a little less unpleasant than yours recently. She got out of it by threatening to climb out on the window ledge of her hotel room where she was being fiercely interrogated. But she did have to leave the country abruptly. I wonder how many other "incidents" there have been?

Sincerely,

Ken Fitzgerald

Dear David:

The enclosed is self-explanatory. If you feel very strongly about the Rattner, we may decide to let it remain there with the other two pictures as you suggested. On the other hand, we can make a substitution if this is agreeable to you.

I am delighted that the MERRY-GO-ROUND will be picked up today. Terken has really done an excellent job - not only in placing the animals where they belong, but also in repairing the tent and especially in replacing the bar so that it is now possible to resume the revolving motion and to work the music box simultaneously. I am enclosing a receipt form and after I have an opportunity to discuss the matter with my accountants, I will advise you whether I will declare this as a gift for 1966 or postpone the listing until the following year. In any event, you will probably have to go through the routine of clearing the acceptance by your committee. Do let me know. Incidentally, if it will require much additional time to clear the billing with Mr. Zichterman, I think I had better make the payment directly to Terken, who is becoming most impatient - and send you a personal bill, including several other items. In any event, I will follow your wishes in the matter.

I certainly hope that you and Tirsa will have occasion to be in New York very shortly. It is always such a pleasure to see you - and I would love to have you come during the current exhibition so that you may have an opportunity to see our young genius while all the Brodersons are on display. Fifteen have been sold and will be distributed when the show closes on December 10th.

Among the problems relating to the delay in departure of the shuttle to Boston at 5 p.m. on December 7th, Mrs.
Halpert, who was obliged to leave the plane after a wait of an hour and a half on the ramp, lost an earring and is under the impression that it might have dropped during her telephone conversation in the Eastern Airlines office when she called to report to her hosts that she could not very well be present at the dinner. The only other possibility is that the earring might have dropped in the plane.

The description is: a gold ball with tiny gems embedded, suspended from a gold chain attached to the clasp which screws to the earlobe. This clasp contains a small emerald.

If this has been found, we would deeply appreciate having it returned by mail or it could be called for at a

Mr. Joseph C. Sloane, Director
Ackland Art Center
University of North Carolina
Chapel Hill, North Carolina

Dear Mr. Sloane:

Please don't consider me rude for not having acknowledged your letter and the checks earlier, but this has been an unusually hectic period for me in every way, both in Gallery activity and in my rather limp condition, based on a serious illness from which I did not have an opportunity to recover. This will be made up shortly by a boat trip I have planned from the 13th to the 21st of December. I find that a so-called cruise on a boat is the most relaxing and revivifying form of vacation for me and I am now about to indulge myself so that I can function more effectively on my return. The move from our old quarters, the remodeling and my other problems have taken their toll to a point where I could not face the daily, exaggerated activities characteristic of this Gallery, which now serves not only its regular function but also as an educational institution for the entire country. We are making a number of adjustments and hope that we can discourage the uncalled for activity with which we are constantly involved.

My visit to Chapel Hill was one of the few pleasurable experiences since we moved from 51st Street and I want to express my appreciation to you and Mrs. Sloane for being such charming hosts. It is too bad that your "amplification system" did not function well, but I was pleased nevertheless when so many members of the audience not only said kind things but also asked some very challenging questions. That always serves as a stimulant for me. Furthermore, I was truly greatly impressed with your Museum and the collection and think that it should be better known than it is. I have shown your catalog to a number of visitors, who were both surprised and deeply impressed.

For your records, I am enclosing the actual traveling expense together with a check deducted from the honorarium, which I should like to have used for the purpose of the purchase of a print or drawing by an artist in your immediate locale. I feel very strongly that the local boys and girls in the art field should be encouraged by their museum and at some future time I trust I can do better than this.

Again, I want to thank the Sloanes for a very pleasant trip.

Sincerely yours,

Gentlemen:

I am most grateful for your kind invitation to attend the reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. David H. McAlpin.

Unfortunately, I cannot attend because I have arranged to leave on the morning of December 13th for a vacation cruise, postponed for two years and badly needed at this time.

I look forward with great pleasure to seeing the exhibition when I return within ten days.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Gardner:

In my follow-up file, I find a letter which Mrs. Halpert wrote to you on September 30th regarding 11 items consigned to you last October. As we have still had no word about their return I am writing you again just as a reminder.

Would you be good enough to let me know about this matter? I will be most grateful.

Also, I hope you will be in New York soon and will have a chance to drop in to the Gallery and say hello.

Sincerely yours,

Tracy Miller

Dear Edith:

You can imagine our surprise and disappointment on learning from your letter of December 7 that the Tajiri bronze we bought on October 1 will go to some one else instead of us. We cannot understand why the piece was not marked sold if it had already been committed, as were other pieces in the show, or why your assistant did not know of the commitment at the time he made an entry of the sale to us. From our previous purchases we considered your word as good as a contract or bond, and are shocked at the thought of not receiving this unique bronze which we liked so much. We have great confidence in your integrity and trust that in the circumstances involved you will help us to acquire Tajiri's BIRD before or after it goes to a museum or else to locate and offer to us a comparable unique piece in the same price range.

Meanwhile, we are disturbed at the idea of an outstanding check for $650 which may be lost in the mail and could fall into the hands of someone who would cash it. Our local post office has agreed to help trace the missing letter if we can ascertain the date it was mailed in New York. Accordingly, I would appreciate your sending a copy of the missing letter as soon as possible.

Lorraine joins me in sending Season's Greetings and best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely,

Richard

Dear Mr. Lazarus:

I find that it is not working out to suit my needs to have the World-Journal-Tribune delivered to my home along with the Times.

Would you be good enough to cancel the Trib entirely and revert to delivering only the Times seven days a week.

Sorry for all the confusion there has been in this connection. Many thanks for your cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. Edith Gregor Halpert
Director
The Downtown Gallery
465 Park Avenue
New York City, New York

Dear Edith,

At long last I am beginning to receive major gifts by artists down your alley.

I need your help and advice on a specific problem. An old friend of mine from Los Angeles has offered the Museum, as a gift, a small but important gouache by Ben Shahn of the Sacco-Vanzetti series. It measures 8 1/2 x 10 3/16 inches and has an inelegant, if original, frame executed by the Master. The painting was bought years ago from Mr. Shahn by Mrs. Edith Breckinridge, widow of the poet, Sam Hoffenstein, and was purchased from her by my friend, Dr. Walter Rothman. Can you help me to obtain a current market value of the picture for tax appraisal purposes, or advise me how best to obtain one? I would be delighted to bring the picture to New York or provide a good photograph for you to see.

The new Art Museum is in the final stages of completion and you will be invited, of course, to the grand opening in October.
You will be especially pleased, I know, to see the Balkan Collection of Early American Folk art featured in a special gallery of its own. Please come.

Would you consider lecturing in the new Museum during the Fall-Spring season of 1966-67? By that time our show will be fully on the road. I can't forget what a brilliant job you did for us in Kansas City in arousing local collectors. I know that you would do the same in Princeton.

Yours warmly,

Patrick J. Kelleher

Dear Mrs. Halpert:

I am trying to complete the listings for our catalogue and would like very much to have the information on the paintings you have agreed to lend to our show, Landscape in Art: Its Origin and Development. I am enclosing loan request forms for the Max Weber, Charles Sheeler and Marsden Hartley. I sent the forms for the John Marin and Stuart Davis September 28, 1966.

Dr. Craft is not coming to New York at all, and so I am leaving up to you the choice of the paintings. Again thank you for your generosity and advice that have contributed much towards making this exhibition a reality.

Dear Mr. Cheney:

After you called today, I checked once again with Zorach's son and find that he visited the Foundry for one last check, decided that the cast of your Zorach was "a beautiful one" and okayed it for shipment. It was picked up yesterday by Liberty Trucking and is on its way to Savannah.

I know you will be pleased to have it at long last.

Sincerely yours,
